HIGHLY DECORATED ICECAPS

Joe Burrow (Cincinnati Bengals) Drafted No. 1 overall in the 2020 NFL Draft out of LSU. Won the Heisman Trophy (2019) and led LSU to a national championship. Guided the Bengals to the Super Bowl in the 2021 season, their first in over 30 years. Known for his accuracy, poise under pressure, and leadership. Has dealt with multiple injuries but remains a franchise cornerstone.

Drake Maye (New England Patriots, rookie 2024) Drafted 3rd overall in the 2024 NFL Draft out of North Carolina. ACC Player of the Year in 2022 after throwing for over 4,300 yards and 38 TDs. Known for his size (6’4”), arm strength, and mobility. Viewed as a potential long-term franchise QB for New England. Drew comparisons to Justin Herbert during the draft process.

Bucky Irving (Tampa Bay Buccaneers, rookie 2024) Drafted in 2024 out of Oregon. Known for his quickness, vision, and ability as a pass-catcher. Ran for over 1,000 yards in 2022 and 2023 with the Ducks. One of the younger rookie backs expected to carve out early playing time. Jordan Mason (San Francisco 49ers) Signed as an undrafted free agent in 2022 from Georgia Tech. Known for his physical running style and yards-after-contact ability. Became a reliable depth option behind Christian McCaffrey. Averaged over 5.0 yards per carry in limited touches early in his career.

Christian McCaffrey (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted 8th overall in the 2017 NFL Draft out of Stanford. 2023 NFL Offensive Player of the Year. One of the most versatile RBs in league history – elite runner and receiver. Has multiple 1,000-yard rushing seasons and also a 1,000-yard receiving season (2019). Traded from Carolina to San Francisco in 2022, becoming the centerpiece of their offense.

David Montgomery (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 3rd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of Iowa State. Played four seasons with the Chicago Bears before signing with Detroit in 2023. Known as a tough, physical runner with great balance. Rushed for 1,000+ yards in 2020 and has been a steady touchdown producer. Formed a strong RB duo with rookie Jahmyr Gibbs in Detroit’s backfield.

Stefon Diggs (Houston Texans) Drafted in the 5th round of the 2015 NFL Draft out of Maryland. Broke out with Minnesota before being traded to Buffalo in 2020. Led the NFL in receptions and receiving yards in 2020. Has six 1,000-yard receiving seasons. Traded to the Houston Texans in 2024 to join C.J. Stroud.

Tee Higgins (Cincinnati Bengals) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2020 NFL Draft out of Clemson. Key piece of the Bengals’ passing game alongside Ja’Marr Chase. Known for his size (6’4”), contested-catch ability, and red-zone presence. Has multiple 1,000-yard seasons. Entered 2024 on the franchise tag amid contract talks.

Christian Kirk (Jacksonville Jaguars) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of Texas A&M. Spent four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals before signing a big free-agent deal with Jacksonville in 2022. Career year in 2022: over 1,100 yards receiving and 8 TDs. Known as a reliable slot receiver with speed and route-running ability. Has become Trevor Lawrence’s top target.

Deebo Samuel (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of South Carolina. 2021 first-team All-Pro with over 1,400 receiving yards. Known for his unique role as both a WR and RB (“wide back”). Physical after the catch and used heavily in Kyle Shanahan’s creative offense. Helped lead the 49ers to multiple deep playoff runs.

Amon-Ra St. Brown (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 4th round of the 2021 NFL Draft out of USC. Quickly developed into one of the most productive slot receivers in the league. 2-time Pro Bowler with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Known for his precise routes, toughness, and reliable hands. A key leader in Detroit’s rise as an NFC contender.

Xavier Worthy (Kansas City Chiefs, rookie 2024) Drafted in the 1st round of the 2024 NFL Draft out of Texas. Broke the NFL Combine record for fastest 40-yard dash (4.21 seconds). Dynamic speed threat expected to thrive with Patrick Mahomes. Produced 2,755 receiving yards and 26 TDs at Texas. Viewed as a possible replacement for the Chiefs’ lost speed from Tyreek Hill.

Evan Engram (Jacksonville Jaguars) Drafted in the 1st round of the 2017 NFL Draft out of Ole Miss. Started his career with the New York Giants before signing with Jacksonville in 2022. Known for his speed and athleticism as a receiving tight end. Back-to-back 700+ yard seasons with the Jaguars. Became a safety blanket for Trevor Lawrence.

Dallas Goedert (Philadelphia Eagles) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of South Dakota State. Took over as Philadelphia’s top TE. Zach Ertz was traded in 2021. Balanced skill set: strong blocker and reliable receiver. Has multiple 50+ catch seasons. Key part of the Eagles’ Super Bowl-appearing offense in 2022.

PRESS RELEASE

New Injuries Call for Roster Changes
For Immediate Release:
September 13, 2025

BURLINGTON, Vt.--Today, free agent Quentin Johnston is signed to a one game deal after three players are ruled out for this weekend's game against the Vancouver Polar Bears due to various injuries.

First, Xavier Worthy was taken out of the game in week one after dislocating his shoulder. He has returned to limited practice, but his timeline of return is still unclear. Second, Kristian Kirk will be out for the second week-end in a row with a hamstring injury that he has been battling since the preseason. His next opportunity to play may be in week three, however the team is exercising caution with his return. Lastly, Dallas Goedert has been ruled out with a knee sprain and is uncertain when he will return.

"We are very grateful to be able to have Quentin on our team this week" said Icecaps head coach, Vanilla Ice. "He's a great guy and a hard worker so we think he'll fit in really well with our team. We're hoping Xavier and Christian make speedy recoveries, but in the meantime, Quentin will be very useful to our offense."

PRESS RELEASE

The Icecaps Meet Ice Cream

For Immediate Release:

September 17, 2025

BURLINGTON, Vt.--Today, the Vermont Icecaps announced a new collaboration with Ben & Jerry's Ice Cream for the upcoming season. The new flavor, Glacier Crunch, will be a mint chocolate chip base with crushed Oreo, marshmallow swirl, and blue sprinkles.

Fans can try this new flavor during the watch party at the newly renovated Gutterson Fieldhouse. This event will be free and open to the public. Free samples of Glacier Crunch will be available as well as various yard games and local food trucks. The specialty flavor will only be available at The Gut.

"Having a specialty ice cream flavor is something that not many teams have done so this is a really exciting opportunity for us," stated Icecaps General Manager Steve Wisniewski. "We love that we are able to work directly with another Vermont based company. If Glacier Crunch is successful in the stadium, we are hopeful that we can make it available statewide after this season."

2025 GAME NOTES

VERMONT ICECAPS GAME NOTES

(5) Vermont Icecaps (1-2) Bye Week

"Bye weeks aren't breaks – they're chances to sharpen the blade. We rest, we recover, and when we're back, we bring the cold. I tell the guys: stay cool, trust the grind, and when it's time to perform, bring the freeze. Vermont deserves a team that reflects the toughness and pride of this state, and we're going to give them that. The mountains may test us, the storms may challenge us, but the Icecaps will always rise. This is only the beginning – and trust me, we're just getting ice cold. My coaching philosophy? Simple: work hard, stay cool, and always keep it ice, ice, baby." – Head Coach Vanilla Ice

"Joining the Icecaps feels like a fresh start and a chance to build something special. I'm ready to earn my place, lead with energy, and bring wins to Vermont. This locker room already feels like family, and the fans have shown so much passion and support. I know expectations are high, and that's exactly how it should be. I'm here to put in the work every day, to grow with my teammates, and to help take this franchise to new heights. Together, we're building something bigger than football – a culture, a standard, and a legacy that represents Vermont with pride." – Jordan Love

"Being named Player of the Week means a lot, but honestly, it's not just about me. Football is the ultimate team game. Every yard I gained, every touchdown I scored, came because of the guy's up-front blocking, the coaches putting us in the right spots, and the energy from the locker room. I just try to run hard, play tough, and do whatever it takes to help this team win. The Icecaps have welcomed me with open arms, and I'm grateful to be part of something special we're building here. This is only the beginning, and I can't wait to keep pushing with my brothers on the field." – David Montgomery

Jordan Love (Green Bay Packers) Drafted 26th overall in the 2020 NFL Draft out of Utah State. Had a breakout season in 2023 leading the Packers to the playoffs for the first time since 1950. One of only four other quarterbacks to have over 4,000 passing yards and 32 passing touchdowns in their first season. Considered to be the Packers' franchise quarterback.

Drake Maye (New England Patriots, rookie 2024) Drafted 3rd overall in the 2024 NFL Draft out of North Carolina. ACC Player of the Year in 2022 after throwing for over 4,300 yards and 38 TDs. Known for his size (6'4"), arm strength, and mobility. Viewed as a potential long-term franchise QB for New England. Drew compared to Justin Herbert during the draft process.

Bucky Irving (Tampa Bay Buccaneers, rookie 2024) Drafted in 2024 out of Oregon. Known for his quickness, vision, and ability as a pass-catcher. Ran for over 1,000 yards in 2022 and 2023 with the Ducks. One of the younger rookie running backs expected to carve out early playing time.

Jordan Mason (Minnesota Vikings) Signed with the San Francisco 49ers as a Free Agent in 2022 from Georgia Tech. Spent his first two seasons with the 49ers working his way up the depth chart, eventually earning a starting spot after Christian McCaffrey was injured. Traded to the Vikings in 2025 where he has become one of their lead running backs and a vital piece of their offense.

Christian McCaffrey (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted 8th overall in the 2017 NFL Draft out of Stanford. 2023 NFL Offensive Player of the Year. One of the most versatile RBs in league history – elite runner and receiver. Has multiple 1,000-yard rushing seasons and also a 1,000-yard receiving season (2019). Traded from Carolina to San Francisco in 2022, becoming the centerpiece of their offense.

David Montgomery (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 3rd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of Iowa State. Played four seasons with the Chicago Bears before signing with Detroit in 2023. Known as a tough, physical runner with great balance. Rushed for 1,000+ yards in 2020 and has been a steady touchdown producer. Formed a strong RB duo with rookie Jahmyr Gibbs in Detroit's backfield.

Stefon Diggs (Houston Texans) Drafted in the 5th round of the 2015 NFL Draft out of Maryland. Broke out with Minnesota before being traded to Buffalo in 2020. Led the NFL in receptions and receiving yards in 2020. Has six 1,000-yard receiving seasons. Traded to the Houston Texans in 2024 to join C.J. Stroud.

Tee Higgins (Cincinnati Bengals) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2020 NFL Draft out of Clemson. Key piece of the Bengals' passing game alongside Ja'Marr Chase. Known for his size (6'4"), contested-catch ability, and red-zone presence. Has multiple 1,000-yard seasons. Entered 2024 on the franchise tag amid contract talks.

Christian Kirk (Jacksonville Jaguars) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of Texas A&M. Spent four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals before signing a big free-agent deal with Jacksonville in 2022. Career year in 2022: over 1,100 yards receiving and 8 TDs. Known as a reliable slot receiver with speed and route-running ability. Has become Trevor Lawrence's top target.

Deebo Samuel (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of South Carolina. 2021 first-team All-Pro with over 1,400 receiving yards. Known for his unique role as both a WR and RB ("wide back"). Physical after the catch and used heavily in Kyle Shanahan's creative offense. Helped lead the 49ers to multiple deep playoff runs.

Amon-Ra St. Brown (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 4th round of the 2021 NFL Draft out of USC. Quickly developed into one of the most productive slot receivers in the league. 2-time Pro Bowler with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Known for his precise routes, toughness, and reliable hands. A key leader in Detroit's rise as an NFC contender.

Romeo Doubs (Green Bay Packers) Drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the 4th round of the 2022 NFL Draft out of Nevada. Was first team All-Mountain West in 2020 and 2021 with over 1,000 yards and 11 touchdowns in the 2021 season. Has become a key piece to the Packers offense with his size, strength, and connection with Jordan Love.

Dallas Goedert (Philadelphia Eagles) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of South Dakota State. Took over as Philadelphia's top tight end after Zach Ertz was traded in 2021. Balanced skill set: strong blocker and reliable receiver. Has multiple 50+ catch seasons. Key part of the Eagles' Super Bowl-appearing offense in 2022.

Juwan Johnson (New Orleans Saints) Signed with the New Orleans Saints as a Free Agent in 2020 from Oregon. Transitioned from wide receiver to tight end in the 2021 season to improve chances of making the Saints' roster and gaining playing time. So far the transition has been successful and he has become a central figure in the Saints' offense.

Vermont Icecaps Dedicate Gutterson Fieldhouse to National Life Group

VERMONT - September 28, 2025 - The Vermont Icecaps announced today the dedication of the newly renovated Gutterson Fieldhouse parking lot to National Life Group, marking the start of a new partnership. The dedication ceremony will take place Monday, September 29, on the south side of the fieldhouse near the outdoor tennis courts.

The event will feature remarks from Steve Wisniewski, general manager of the Icecaps and Mehran Assadi, president of National Life Group. Media and fans are welcome to attend, and the ceremony will be streamed on all social media platforms.

The National Life Group partnership helped make major improvements possible to the outdoor parking lot, which can now accommodate 20,000 to 25,000 vehicles. Fans can enjoy the new space to tailgate in a festive atmosphere. There is also an added shuttle service for fans in the lot.

About National Life Group:

Founded in 1848, National Life Group is an independent insurance company that provides insurance and annuities policies. For over 175 years, the company has helped individuals, families and businesses secure their financial futures while giving back to the communities it serves.

Vermont Icecaps to Host "Tackle Cancer Night" Presented by National Life Group

VERMONT- October 05, 2025 - The Vermont Icecaps will honor Breast Cancer Awareness month this Friday, presented by National Life Group.

The Icecaps are reigniting one of the most visually striking traditions in sports with their "Pink Out Game." The team, coaches and stadium will be decked out in pink to show solidarity with those affected by breast cancer.

Fans are encouraging to wear pink in support of those affected by breast cancer. The first 1,000 fans will receive a pink rally towel, courtesy of National Life Group. The evening will include pregame recognitions, on-field tributes and in-game fundraisers, with proceeds benefiting local breast cancer research and support programs.

"Breast Cancer Awareness Night is more than fundraising, it's about visibility, community and showing those affected that we stand with them," Steve Wisniewski, GM of Vermont Icecaps, said.

Tickets for the Pink Out Game are available now at VermontIcecaps.com or at the Gutterson Fieldhouse box office.

Known for his size (6'4"), arm strength, and mobility. Viewed as a potential long-term franchise QB for New England. Drew compared to Justin Herbert during the draft process.

Bucky Irving (Tampa Bay Buccaneers, rookie 2024) Drafted in 2024 out of Oregon. Known for his quickness, vision, and ability as a pass-catcher. Ran for over 1,000 yards in 2022 and 2023 with the Ducks. One of the younger rookie running backs expected to carve out early playing time.

Jordan Mason (Minnesota Vikings) Signed with the San Francisco 49ers as a Free Agent in 2022 from Georgia Tech. Spent his first two seasons with the 49ers working his way up the depth chart, eventually earning a starting spot after Christian McCaffrey was injured. Traded to the Vikings in 2025 where he has become one of their lead running backs and a vital piece of their offense.

Christian McCaffrey (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted 8th overall in the 2017 NFL Draft out of Stanford. 2023 NFL Offensive Player of the Year. One of the most versatile RBs in league history — elite runner and receiver. Has multiple 1,000-yard rushing seasons and also a 1,000-yard receiving season (2019). Traded from Carolina to San Francisco in 2022, becoming the centerpiece of their offense.

David Montgomery (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 3rd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of Iowa State. Played four seasons with the Chicago Bears before signing with Detroit in 2023. Known as a tough, physical runner with great balance. Rushed for 1,000+ yards in 2020 and has been a steady touchdown producer. Formed a strong RB duo with rookie Jahmyr Gibbs in Detroit's backfield.

Stefon Diggs (Houston Texans) Drafted in the 5th round of the 2015 NFL Draft out of Maryland. Broke out with Minnesota before being traded to Buffalo in 2020. Led the NFL in receptions and receiving yards in 2020. Has six 1,000-yard receiving seasons. Traded to the Houston Texans in 2024 to join C.J. Stroud.

Tee Higgins (Cincinnati Bengals) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2020 NFL Draft out of Clemson. Key piece of the Bengals' passing game alongside Ja'Marr Chase. Known for his size (6'4"), contested-catch ability, and red-zone presence. Has multiple 1,000-yard seasons. Entered 2024 on the franchise tag amid contract talks.

Christian Kirk (Jacksonville Jaguars) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of Texas A&M. Spent four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals before signing a big free-agent deal with Jacksonville in 2022. Career year in 2022: over 1,100 yards receiving and 8 TDs. Known as a reliable slot receiver with speed and route-running ability. Has become Trevor Lawrence's top target.

Deebo Samuel (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of South Carolina. 2021 first-team All-Pro with over 1,400 receiving yards. Known for his unique role as both a WR and RB ("wide back"). Physical after the catch and used heavily in Kyle Shanahan's creative offense. Helped lead the 49ers to multiple deep playoff runs.

Amon-Ra St. Brown (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 4th round of the 2021 NFL Draft out of USC. Quickly developed into one of the most productive slot receivers in the league. 2-time Pro Bowler with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Known for his precise routes, toughness, and reliable hands. A key leader in Detroit's rise as an NFC contender.

Romeo Doubs (Green Bay Packers) Drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the 4th round of the 2022 NFL Draft out of Nevada. Was first team All-Mountain West in 2020 and 2021 with over 1,000 yards and 11 touchdowns in the 2021 season. Has become a key piece to the Packers offense with his size, strength, and connection with Jordan Love.

Dallas Goedert (Philadelphia Eagles) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of South Dakota State. Took over as Philadelphia's top tight end after Zach Ertz was traded in 2021. Balanced skill set: strong blocker and reliable receiver. Has multiple 50+ catch seasons. Key part of the Eagles' Super Bowl-appearing offense in 2022.

Juwan Johnson (New Orleans Saints) Signed with the New Orleans Saints as a Free Agent in 2020 from Oregon. Transitioned from wide receiver to tight end in the 2021 season to improve chances of making the Saints' roster and gaining playing time. So far the transition has been successful and he has become a central figure in the Saints' offense.

HEADLINE

BURLINGTON, VT – This week, the Vermont Icecaps visit the Rutland Regional Medical Center for the ribbon cutting ceremony in celebration of the new children's wing.

The ceremony will take place Monday, Oct. 13, 2025, at 12 p.m. The new children's wing will be located on the second floor of the Mason Building, next to the Labor and Delivery services. This new wing will include services for neurology, cardiology, and orthopedics - allowing wider access for Vermont children to treatments for brain, heart, bone or muscle disorders.

"We were really excited to be asked to attend this event," said Icecaps head coach, Vanilla Ice. "The kids are a huge part of our fan base, so we want to support them as much as they support us. It is a little bit of a trip for us, but we are here to represent the entire state, not just Burlington. Being able to give kids the help they need statewide is something really special to us."

A New Member Joins Icecaps Nation

BURLINGTON, Vt. – Last week, the Vermont Icecaps introduced a new mascot, Frostbite, a warm-hearted yeti with a passion for football and high fives.

Frostbite made his first appearance at last week's game against the Memphis Pharaohs and is set to make appearances at various parades and events for the rest of the season. The Icecaps' decision to create Frostbite comes as part of a broader effort to enhance game-day entertainment and deepen connections with fans of all ages.

"We're really excited to see what Frostbite can do for the team and for the fans this season," said Icecaps' general manager, Steve Wisniewski. "Being a new team to the NFL and to Vermont in general we want to do everything we can to grow our program and Icecaps Nation."

To learn more about Frostbite's story go to vticecaps.com/frostbite.com.

###

The Vermont Icecaps are a brand-new professional NFL team proudly representing Burlington, Vermont, beginning their inaugural season in 2025. Spent four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals before signing a big free-agent deal with Jacksonville in 2022. Career year in 2022: over 1,100 yards receiving and 8 TDs. Known as a reliable slot receiver with speed and route-running ability. Has become Trevor Lawrence's top target.

Deebo Samuel (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of South Carolina. 2021 first-team All-Pro with over 1,400 receiving yards. Known for his unique role as both a WR and RB ("wide back"). Physical after the catch and used heavily in Kyle Shanahan's creative offense. Helped lead the 49ers to multiple deep playoff runs.

Amon-Ra St. Brown (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 4th round of the 2021 NFL Draft out of USC. Quickly developed into one of the most productive slot receivers in the league. 2-time Pro Bowler with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Known for his precise routes, toughness, and reliable hands. A key leader in Detroit's rise as an NFC contender.

Romeo Doubs (Green Bay Packers) Drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the 4th round of the 2022 NFL Draft out of Nevada. Was first team All-Mountain West in 2020 and 2021 with over 1,000 yards and 11 touchdowns in the 2021 season. Has become a key piece to the Packers offense with his size, strength, and connection with Jordan Love.

Dallas Goedert (Philadelphia Eagles) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of South Dakota State. Took over as Philadelphia's top tight end after Zach Ertz was traded in 2021. Balanced skill set: strong blocker and reliable receiver. Has multiple 50+ catch seasons. Key part of the Eagles' Super Bowl-appearing offense in 2022.

Juwan Johnson (New Orleans Saints) Signed with the New Orleans Saints as a Free Agent in 2020 from Oregon. Transitioned from wide receiver to tight end in the 2021 season to improve chances of making the Saints' roster and gaining playing time. So far the transition has been successful and he has become a central figure in the Saints' offense.

A New Member Joins Icecaps Nation

BURLINGTON, Vt. – Last week, the Vermont Icecaps introduced a new mascot, Frostbite, a warm-hearted yeti with a passion for football and high fives.

Frostbite made his first appearance at last week's game against the Memphis Pharaohs and is set to make appearances at various parades and events for the rest of the season. The Icecaps' decision to create Frostbite comes as part of a broader effort to enhance game-day entertainment and deepen connections with fans of all ages.

"We're really excited to see what Frostbite can do for the team and for the fans this season," said Icecaps' general manager, Steve Wisniewski. "Being a new team to the NFL and to Vermont in general we want to do everything we can to grow our program and Icecaps Nation."

To learn more about Frostbite's story go to vticecaps.com/frostbite.com.

2025 GAME NOTES

VERMONT ICECAPS GAME NOTES

(2) Vermont Icecaps (6-3) VS (1) Cheyenne Bison (6-2)

Coach Vanilla Ice

"Being ranked No. 2 doesn't guarantee us anything. We need to play at the same level we have been these past few games to prove that we deserve our spot. We have positioned ourselves well, but that doesn't mean the playoffs can throw off everything."

Noah Kahan

"The time of year for playoffs is the best, however I love Vermont but it's the season of the sticks and that means this stretch will feel tough and stripped down. We must be ready to embrace the hard parts, stay disciplined, and prove we come out on top."

Jordan Love (Green Bay Packers) Drafted 26th overall in the 2020 NFL Draft out of Utah State. Had a breakout season in 2023 leading the Packers to the playoffs for the first time since 1950. One of only four other quarterbacks to have over 4,000 passing yards and 32 passing touchdowns in their first season. Considered to be the Packers' franchise quarterback.

Drake Maye (New England Patriots, rookie 2024) Drafted 3rd overall in the 2024 NFL Draft out of North Carolina. ACC Player of the Year in 2022 after throwing for over 4,300 yards and 38 TDs. Known for his size (6'4"), arm strength, and mobility. Viewed as a potential long-term franchise QB for New England. Drew compared to Justin Herbert during the draft process.

Rico Dowdle (North Carolina Panthers) Signed with the Dallas Cowboys in 2020 as a Free Agent from North Carolina. Dowdle had a breakout season in 2024 with the Cowboys after rushing for over 1,000 yards. After spending five seasons with Dallas, Dowdle signed with the Panthers and is earning the title of 'Carolina's breakout player of the year' with 605 yards rushing already.

Jordan Mason (Minnesota Vikings) Signed with the San Francisco 49ers as a Free Agent in 2022 from Georgia Tech. Spent his first two seasons with the 49ers working his way up the depth chart, eventually earning a starting spot after Christian McCaffrey was injured. Traded to the Vikings in 2025 where he has become one of their lead running backs and a vital piece of their offense.

Christian McCaffrey (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted 8th overall in the 2017 NFL Draft out of Stanford. 2023 NFL Offensive Player of the Year. One of the most versatile RBs in league history – elite runner and receiver. Has multiple 1,000-yard rushing seasons and also a 1,000-yard receiving season (2019). Traded from Carolina to San Francisco in 2022, becoming the centerpiece of their offense.

David Montgomery (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 3rd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of Iowa State. Played four seasons with the Chicago Bears before signing with Detroit in 2023. Known as a tough, physical runner with great balance. Rushed for 1,000+ yards in 2020 and has been a steady touchdown producer. Formed a strong RB duo with rookie Jahmyr Gibbs in Detroit's backfield.

Stefon Diggs (Houston Texans) Drafted in the 5th round of the 2015 NFL Draft out of Maryland. Broke out with Minnesota before being traded to Buffalo in 2020. Led the NFL in receptions and receiving yards in 2020. Has six 1,000-yard receiving seasons. Traded to the Houston Texans in 2024 to join C.J. Stroud.

Tee Higgins (Cincinnati Bengals) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2020 NFL Draft out of Clemson. Key piece of the Bengals' passing game alongside Ja'Marr Chase. Known for his size (6'4"), contested-catch ability, and red-zone presence. Has multiple 1,000-yard seasons. Entered 2024 on the franchise tag amid contract talks.

Christian Kirk (Jacksonville Jaguars) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of Texas A&M. Ice Cap Nation Prepares for Playoffs

BURLINGTON, Vt. - With a 6-3 record, the Vermont Ice Caps are preparing for a tough battle in the playoffs. The Ice Caps have taken a slide, losing the last two out of their three games. However, Vermont has been one of the best teams in the league ranked No. 2 overall and will be in a position to make a run to the league title game.

Led by quarterback Jordan Love, the Ice Caps offense has been stout, especially with the offensive weapons of receivers Amon-Ra St. Brown, Stefon Diggs and Deebo Samuel and running backs Christian McCaffery and Rico Dowdle.

2025 GAME NOTES

VERMONT ICECAPS GAME NOTES

(3) Vermont Icecaps 6-4

Coach Vanilla Ice

"This season, we had a great group of guys. This season proved that it wasn't all about wins, but the battles that we fought together. This is a really special group of guys. From a coaching point I was able to see the grit and heart that this team had and they fought until the very end. Really proud of this team."

Drake Maye

"Obviously not the ending that we wanted, but looking back at the season as a whole, I am really proud of our guys, how we kept showing up. Week after week, this team battled through injuries and tough matchups. I'm going to take away a lot from this season, and I'm grateful for the guys in that locker room. We didn't get the finish we hoped for, but we laid a foundation. Next season starts tomorrow. I'm ready to go back to work."

Steve Wisniewski

"There's no hiding from the results. We fell short of expectations, and that starts with me. But I'm proud of the way this team continued to compete, even when the circumstances weren't ideal, and I'm proud of the community we have that never failed to show support. We have a lot of important decisions to make this offseason, and we're committed to making the moves necessary to get a playoff team. Thanks guys."

Quickly developed into one of the most productive slot receivers in the league. 2-time Pro Bowler with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Known for his precise routes, toughness, and reliable hands. A key leader in Detroit's rise as an NFC contender.

Romeo Doubs (Green Bay Packers) Drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the 4th round of the 2022 NFL Draft out of Nevada. Was first team All-Mountain West in 2020 and 2021 with over 1,000 yards and 11 touchdowns in the 2021 season. Has become a key piece to the Packers offense with his size, strength, and connection with Jordan Love.

Dallas Goedert (Philadelphia Eagles) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of South Dakota State. Took over as Philadelphia's top tight end after Zach Ertz was traded in 2021. Balanced skill set: strong blocker and reliable receiver. Has multiple 50+ catch seasons. Key part of the Eagles' Super Bowl-appearing offense in 2022.

Juwan Johnson (New Orleans Saints) Signed with the New Orleans Saints as a Free Agent in 2020 from Oregon. Transitioned from wide receiver to tight end in the 2021 season to improve chances of making the Saints' roster and gaining playing time. So far the transition has been successful and he has become a central figure in the Saints' offense.

Ice Cap Nation Prepares for Playoffs

BURLINGTON, Vt. - Now with a 6-4 record, the Vermont Ice Caps are still fighting in the playoffs. Following the loss to the No. 1 team in the league, Cheyenne, our sights are now set on the second ranked Salt Lake City.

After welcoming back quarterback Drake Maye, he has put up back-to-back 18+ point performances. In week 10 Maye dominated the air throwing for 270 yards and 2 touchdowns. In week 11, he topped those numbers by passing for 281 yards and 1 touchdown. Following his stout performance Maye had this to say,

"There is nothing like playing in front of Ice Cap fans. I was craving this feeling when I was gone and there was nothing more I wanted to do other than put on a great show for the fans and my teammates," he said.

In week 11 running back Christian McCaffrey pounded the rock and had a staggering 35-point performance. He ran for 81 yards and 2 touchdowns and even caught 5 passes for 40 yards and 1 touchdown.

Another week 11 standout is wide receiver Deebo Samuel. He was a crucial piece in the receiving game, with 7 receptions for 74 yards and a touchdown.

2025 GAME NOTES

VERMONT ICECAPS GAME NOTES

(3) Vermont Icecaps 6-4

Coach Vanilla Ice

"Although we didn't get the result that we hoped for, we learned and that's something that I am extremely proud to see as a coach for this team. I think that as the season kept going, people didn't see our team as just statistics and our record. I hope they recognized us for our performance and confidence grew stronger. If we continue to focus and grow on the foundation of improving everyday, the program is heading in the right direction."

Christian McCaffrey

"The season may be over for the Ice Caps, but the impact that this team had on me still leaves me speechless. The tough practices, the memorable wins, and the hard losses are something that I will never forget. I'll never forget what this team meant to me."

HIGHLY DECORATED ICECAPS

Jordan Love (Green Bay Packers) Drafted 26th overall in the 2020 NFL Draft out of Utah State. Had a breakout season in 2023 leading the Packers to the playoffs for the first time since 1950. One of only four other quarterbacks to have over 4,000 passing yards and 32 passing touchdowns in their first season. Considered to be the Packers' franchise quarterback.

Drake Maye (New England Patriots, rookie 2024) Drafted 3rd overall in the 2024 NFL Draft out of North Carolina. ACC Player of the Year in 2022 after throwing for over 4,300 yards and 38 TDs. Known for his size (6'4"), arm strength, and mobility. Viewed as a potential long-term franchise QB for New England. Drew compared to Justin Herbert during the draft process.

Rico Dowdle (North Carolina Panthers) Signed with the Dallas Cowboys in 2020 as a Free Agent from North Carolina. Dowdle had a breakout season in 2024 with the Cowboys after rushing for over 1,000 yards. After spending five seasons with Dallas, Dowdle signed with the Panthers and is earning the title of 'Carolina's breakout player of the year' with 605 yards rushing already.

Jordan Mason (Minnesota Vikings) Signed with the San Francisco 49ers as a Free Agent in 2022 from Georgia Tech. Spent his first two seasons with the 49ers working his way up the depth chart, eventually earning a starting spot after Christian McCaffrey was injured. Traded to the Vikings in 2025 where he has become one of their lead running backs and a vital piece of their offense.

Christian McCaffrey (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted 8th overall in the 2017 NFL Draft out of Stanford. 2023 NFL Offensive Player of the Year. One of the most versatile RBs in league history – elite runner and receiver. Has multiple 1,000-yard rushing seasons and also a 1,000-yard receiving season (2019). Traded from Carolina to San Francisco in 2022, becoming the centerpiece of their offense.

David Montgomery (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 3rd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of Iowa State. Played four seasons with the Chicago Bears before signing with Detroit in 2023. Known as a tough, physical runner with great balance. Rushed for 1,000+ yards in 2020 and has been a steady touchdown producer. Formed a strong RB duo with rookie Jahmyr Gibbs in Detroit's backfield.

Stefon Diggs (Houston Texans) Drafted in the 5th round of the 2015 NFL Draft out of Maryland. Broke out with Minnesota before being traded to Buffalo in 2020. Led the NFL in receptions and receiving yards in 2020. Has six 1,000-yard receiving seasons. Traded to the Houston Texans in 2024 to join C.J. Stroud.

Tee Higgins (Cincinnati Bengals) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2020 NFL Draft out of Clemson. Key piece of the Bengals' passing game alongside Ja'Marr Chase. Known for his size (6'4"), contested-catch ability, and red-zone presence. Has multiple 1,000-yard seasons. Entered 2024 on the franchise tag amid contract talks.

Christian Kirk (Jacksonville Jaguars) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of Texas A&M. Spent four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals before signing a big free-agent deal with Jacksonville in 2022. Career year in 2022: over 1,100 yards receiving and 8 TDs. Known as a reliable slot receiver with speed and route-running ability. Has become Trevor Lawrence's top target.

Deebo Samuel (San Francisco 49ers) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2019 NFL Draft out of South Carolina. 2021 first-team All-Pro with over 1,400 receiving yards. Known for his unique role as both a WR and RB ("wide back"). Physical after the catch and used heavily in Kyle Shanahan's creative offense. Helped lead the 49ers to multiple deep playoff runs.

Amon-Ra St. Brown (Detroit Lions) Drafted in the 4th round of the 2021 NFL Draft out of USC. Quickly developed into one of the most productive slot receivers in the league. 2-time Pro Bowler with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Known for his precise routes, toughness, and reliable hands. A key leader in Detroit's rise as an NFC contender.

Romeo Doubs (Green Bay Packers) Drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the 4th round of the 2022 NFL Draft out of Nevada. Was first team All-Mountain West in 2020 and 2021 with over 1,000 yards and 11 touchdowns in the 2021 season. Has become a key piece to the Packers offense with his size, strength, and connection with Jordan Love.

Dallas Goedert (Philadelphia Eagles) Drafted in the 2nd round of the 2018 NFL Draft out of South Dakota State. Took over as Philadelphia's top tight end after Zach Ertz was traded in 2021. Balanced skill set: strong blocker and reliable receiver. Has multiple 50+ catch seasons. Key part of the Eagles' Super Bowl-appearing offense in 2022.

Juwan Johnson (New Orleans Saints) Signed with the New Orleans Saints as a Free Agent in 2020 from Oregon. Transitioned from wide receiver to tight end in the 2021 season to improve chances of making the Saints' roster and gaining playing time. So far the transition has been successful and he has become a central figure in the Saints' offense.

Inaugural Season is In the Books

BURLINGTON, Vt. - The Icecaps conclude their impressive inaugural season with a 6-4 record and finishing in 3rd place overall.

A congratulations is in order for Christian McCaffrey who led the team in scoring this year. He amassed 310.1 points this season. He had 7 rushing touchdowns and 5 receiving touchdowns.

"I'll remember this season for the rest of my life," McCaffrey said. "Icicap nation brought it every game, and I leaned on it. They are lucky they caught us in year one, cause in year two we are winning the entire thing."

Head Coach Vanilla Ice spoke to the media following the conclusion of the season and made an announcement of his own.

"I think we executed every game to the best of our ability, and I think this year set a massive foundation," Ice said. "Since offseason is here, I'm headed back to the recording studio to finish my new album 'Ain't Nothin but an Icecap Thang'."

His new album drops January 1st on all major streaming platforms. It will feature collaborations with current Icecap players and other major artists.

Massive thanks to wonderful sponsors Ben & Jerrys and the National Life Group for providing unequivocal support this season and allowing a relationship to blossom for the years to come.
